Ceremonial Tribute Speech

A Speech of tribute centers on a person, a monument, or an event. This type of speech recognizes and celebrates achievements and weaves powerful narratives that the audience can identify with.

Objectives

- To deliver a speech of tribute
- To effectively create word pictures
- To emotionally move an audience
- To use a marked manuscript to assist with pace and flow
- To utilize colorful language devices
- To effectively use identification, narrative, and magnification

Requirements

- 4-6 Minutes
- Must write speech in manuscript form using markings to indicate changes in voice, pace and rhythm. (No outline needed this time)
- Must create a full manuscript of the speech using suggested format
- References typed in APA includes 3 items of research
 - Usually research is a scripture, song, or quote
 - Sometimes it consists of interviews with people who know the person that you are talking about
 - Other times, research is to learn more about your subject
 - Rarely, do you cite this research in your speech
- Use Narratives effectively: Use word pictures to tell a story and paint pictures of places and events that we can see unbid in our mind's eye. Label on your manuscript
- Use a theme or overall metaphor: Speech is tied together by an overarching theme or metaphor. Label on your manuscript
Use identification: Identify with the audience; make them feel like they are a part of your speech. Continually bring them in and let them take part in what you are saying. Label on your manuscript
- Use magnification: (elaborates and give example of characteristics of a person or thing. Be sincere but make the characteristics seem very special or important.) Label this on your manuscript.

La première réaction a consisté à benzyler la cyclopropylamine par BnBr de façon à la rendre moins volatile et plus commode à manipuler. La benzylamine 65 a été obtenue avec un rendement de 42 % dû en partie à la formation de l'adduit dibenzylé correspondant, lequel représente environ 25 % en masse du brut d'après l'analyse RMN ¹H. Yoshida et al. ont quant à eux obtenu un rendement de 48 % pour cette étape.

Ensuite, 65 a été méthylé par amination réductrice du formaldéhyde en présence de NaBH₄ pour donner la N-méthyl-N-benzylcyclopropylamine 66 avec un rendement moyen de 39 % (49 % pour Yoshida et al.). Le clivage du groupement benzyle de 66 a été réalisé à t.a. par hydrogénolyse à l'aide de Pd/C 10 % dans MeOH pendant 48 h. Il a conduit à l'obtention de la N-méthylcyclopropylamine qui a finalement été convertie en chlorhydrate par action d'un large excès de HCl (1,25 M dans MeOH) afin de faciliter sa manipulation. Le chlorure de N-méthylcyclopropylammonium 67 a ainsi été obtenu avec un rendement de 63 %. Sec, le sel d'ammonium se présente sous la forme de cristaux incolores mais il peut facilement absorber l'eau atmosphérique (hygroscopique) c'est pourquoi il est nécessaire de le conserver sous argon. Le chlorure de N-méthylcyclopropylammonium 67 a ensuite été couplé à l'ester 54 avec la méthode utilisant AlMe₃. Cependant, la pureté de l'analogue amide obtenu n'était pas suffisante pour réaliser les tests in vitro et la faible quantité de produit ne permettait pas d'envisager une seconde purification. Il est possible que la formation du complexe méthylcyclopropylaluminium ne soit pas favorable.

2. Synthèse des précurseurs de radiomarquage au fluor-18

La préparation de précurseurs de radiomarquage au fluor-18 n'a pas encore été finalisée, les analogues amides n'ayant pas encore été testés in vitro pour leur affinité envers TSPO 18 kDa. Cependant, une voie de synthèse générale a été entreprise pour envisager leur radiomarquage.

2.1. Stratégie de synthèse des précurseurs de radiomarquage amides

La rétrosynthèse des précurseurs, exposée dans le Schéma 95, fait intervenir un groupement protecteur (GP) qui sert à protéger la fonction alcool de la chaîne latérale jusqu'à la tosylation finale. La construction du cycle pyrazolo[1,5-a]pyrimidine est classique et reprend la séquence utilisée précédemment (cyanylation, C-alkylation, cyclisations I et II). Comme pour la stratégie de synthèse des analogues amides, la C-alkylation permet d'incorporer la fonction ester nécessaire à l'étape d'amination.
